

NORTHEAST EARLY CHILDHOOD COUNCIL

presents

FREE Positive Discipline Live Online Classes

Is your child spending too much time in “time out?”
Are you concerned that you are too strict or too easy?
Do you sometimes think there must be a better way?

These interactive, online parenting courses are for parents, stepparents, foster parents, grandparents and childcare providers.

You will have a chance to ask questions and hear from other parents.

Participate in the FREE online classes either...
from your own home on your computer, smart phone or tablet or join groups at:

Plainfield Family Resource Center , 651 Norwich Road, Plainfield

Putnam Family Resource Centers, 33 Wicker Street, Putnam

(FREE childcare provided for children 2 & over for the first 15 children registered at each location.)

Positive Discipline
for Children 2 – 5 Years Old

Two Part Online Class
Tuesdays - May 9 & 16
7:00 – 8:00 p.m.

OR

Positive Discipline
for Children 6–12 Years Old

Two Part Online Class
Thursdays - May 11 & 18
7:00 – 8:00 p.m.

Registration Required at

www.PeaceAtHomeParenting.com/necc

Registration Deadline by: Tuesday, May 2, 2017

For more information please contact: Kris at mrscicch95@sbcglobal.net or 401-323-4317

Parents will learn:

- What’s important about self-worth in children
- How to use positive discipline to increase cooperation
- Ways to strengthen the parent-child connection

Ruth Ettenberg Freeman, LCSW, of Peace At Home Parenting

will present the online class. She has taught positive parenting skills to thousands of parents and professionals in Connecticut over the past 30 years. Parents in her classes report more harmony in family life, increased cooperation and improved school work among their children. Ruth is a parent, stepparent, foster parent, and grandparent.

These services will be evaluated through a short online survey by Dr. Beth Russell at the University of Connecticut

